some rationality in the Sell (O Tale of diligence.

of diligence.

4. This art has for many years been practiced by my old from the wonderful success. Discuss Johnson Johnson with wonderful success. of diligence.

his art has for many years and success. Discuss John Sober with wonderful success. Discuss John Sober with wonderful success. Discuss John Sober Sober. description of the character of Sober.

Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson's essay On Idleness probes into the Wide Ans: Samuel Johnson of the Wide Ans: Sam Ans: Samuel Johnson see human vice called idleness. In the dominated but harmless human art and requires great the dominated but harmness is an art and requires great the Johnson holds that idleness is an art and requires great that Johnson holds that idleness perfection of his dear old friends Johnson holds that forced perfection of his dear old friend sole be followed with utmost perfection of his dear old friend sole be followed this artful human vice to its fullest extens be followed with antiful human vice to its fullest extent, who practiced this artful human vice to its fullest extent, who practiced this artful human vice to its fullest extent. Johnson gives a character sketch of Mr. Sober who was

Johnson gives a condition of idleness. Sober though had struly devoted follower of idleness. Sober though had struly devoted follower of idleness, had his love for a least desires in life and an intellectual talent, had his love for a life of ease that prevented him from utilising his talents in the proper direction. He lived a purposeless life merely by passing his time in conversation pacifying himself that conversation helped him to teach and learn a lot of things. Sober feared the moments when he and his friends might go home to sleep and in the morning when the whole would be too busy to involve in any conversations. But then he found out other means to lessen the sufferings of those tiresome intervals. He had persuaded himself that manual works were of no use and as such, were overlooked most of the time. However, he tried his hand in various peny works like carpentry, plumber, potter, tin man, shoe maker and having failed in these activities, Sober felt that he needed to have