

Q.No.3. Some conferences on Environment: (short note)

Ans - Stockholm Conference 1972 was the first major international conference on environment. It was held in Stockholm, Sweden. It was the first time that the environment was placed on the international agenda. The conference resulted in the adoption of the Stockholm Declaration and Action Plan, which laid the foundation for the modern environmental movement. It also led to the establishment of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP).

1) Perceptual awareness

2) Conceptual understanding of the natural Environment

3) Conceptual understanding of man made Environment

4) Aesthetic discrimination

5) Values and value clarification

6) Fostering Creative Abilities and Attitudes

7) Humanism

8) Organisational skills and knowledge

9) Decision Making

Some Conferences on Environment: (short note)

1) Stockholm Conference (1972): The first major international conference on environment. It was held in Stockholm, Sweden. It was the first time that the environment was placed on the international agenda. The conference resulted in the adoption of the Stockholm Declaration and Action Plan, which laid the foundation for the modern environmental movement. It also led to the establishment of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP).